

The Campaign Begun!

Yes, it has fairly begun—the campaign, the campaign which chiefly interests women folks at this time of year, the White Suit campaign. That is the chief wear now, and the thing above all others of the most interest. We have an uncommonly large lot of these suits for ladies and misses, It includes all the new styles, some of which are exclusive to us. The prices are universally low.

The same remarks will apply to White Sacks.

TROUBLE WITH LABORERS.
Charges of Ill-Treatment and Discrimination Against Gibney's Foreman.

The striking workmen on the Trust pipe line are still dissatisfied with contractor Gibney's conduct. Some of them refuse to work if Gibney is employed, and he insists that he must employ the Italians. The result is that a few of the city laborers have quit work and refuse to go back unless the Italians, 180 in all, are discharged. This Mr. Gibney will not do. The city laborers who have quit charge that Mr. Gibney's foreman is abusive and offensive, and that he himself has discriminated against home labor, refusing to employ it when others could be obtained. Those men who are working say they have no objection to the chiefs over them, nor do a great many of them know of any refusal to give work to home labor. Others state, however, that they have been treated fairly, especially by some Pennsylvania foremen, and that in many cases they have been refused work when there was plenty of it and others were put on. Of course the labor agitator is on hand, but it is not thought there will be any trouble. Mr. Gibney still says that all the home laborers who wish can secure a job and he has offered $5 a day to the man who will bring him twenty new laborers every day.

Aufderheide, frame cottage on Railroad street, near Vermont, $650.

Amusements.
Pawnee Bill's company of cowboys and Indians give very entertaining representations of wild Western life. The riding itself is daring, and the feats on horseback thrilling. In exhibitions of this kind the features are somewhat limited, but this company introduces sufficient novelty to keep the interest of the spectator alive to the general excellence of the show. The Indians and cowboys are equally matched as to numbers, which gives the fights in which they engage a realism that is wanting when such scenes are produced only by a few. Again, the race-track at the fair-grounds, where the performances take place, affords ample room for carrying on the attacks, less showing and the sports which are connected with life on the frontier. The exhibitions will be repeated this afternoon and to-morrow, with an evening performance each day. The crowd in attendance yesterday afternoon and evening was large.

Personal and Society.

ORDERED TO QUIT WORK.

The Citizens' Company Will Complete the Tracks Begun and Wait for Litigation.

In accordance with the resolution passed by the Council and Board of Aldermen, Monday night, Street Commissioner Roney yesterday morning called upon Manager Shaffer and notified him that no more streets must be dug up until the Council granted permission. Mr. Shaffer stated that he was acting under instructions from his superior officers in Chicago and could not stop work. Mr. Roney then called on the foremen in charge of the various extensions and ordered them to quit. After considerable wrangling the workmen were stopped from digging up the streets for new stretches of track, and were put to completing the tracks which had been begun. There will be enough work on the unfinished tracks to keep the company's employees busy for several days, and it is not then permitted to go ahead with their extensions it is proposed to bring the question before the courts.

Mr. Shaffer said it is not their intention to be arbitrary in the matter, and they expect fair treatment. "We know we have a right to go ahead and complete the lines we have," said a member of the company, "but we are willing to wait and have the fact demonstrated conclusively to the Council."

The Dudley company yesterday had a force of men at work completing the track it had begun on Meridian street, but no more streets will be disturbed until the matter of franchise is definitely settled. Colonel Holloway thinks it is unfair for the Council to ask the company to represent to bid on a franchise, when it already has a right to the streets in case a cable road is built. "If we are not granted a right for an electric-motor road," said he, "we will still hold our cable franchise, and will try to build that kind of a road." The councilmen hope to permanently settle the questions so far as they are concerned at the special meeting to-morrow night.

Mendelssohn Society Concert.
The fourth and last concert for this season of the Mendelssohn Society was given last night at Plymouth Church, before a good sized audience, which filled all of the choicest seats in the house.

The first part of the programme was selections from Handel's "Messiah," the soloists being Mrs. U. J. Hammond, Mrs. Henry Schurman, Mr. W. H. Daggett and Mr. Charles F. Hanson. The choruses were fairly good, and would have given greater satisfaction had each one instantly responded to the wave of the conductor's baton. The voices were well balanced, and of sufficient power to more than fill the church. The second part was of a miscellaneous character, in which Prof. Paul Bahd, Mr. F. H. Homestead, Mrs. Henry Schurman and Mr. M. H. Spades rendered solos very acceptably. A duet, "The Spanish Morning Serenade," was admirably sung by Mrs. Anna L. Walker and Miss Alice Walker to the beautiful accompaniment played by Mr. Hanson. The audience desired a repetition, but it was not given. The closing "Inflammation" from Beethoven's "Stabat Mater," by Mrs. Hammond and the society, was well given. The accompaniments were a pronounced feature of the concert. Mr. Julius F. Kohl presided at the piano and organ, and sustained the best messages on the organ. A programme like the one selected should have a year's hard and constant study. There is material enough in the society for a large chorus, and it is capable of a much better rendition under such an able conductor as Professor Barus.

Democrats Not Enthusiastic.
Captain Clark Clary, whose business as a travelling insurance agent takes him to all parts of the State, comments on the indifference with which the Democrats accept the nomination of Cleveland and Thurman. "I have been nearly all over the State since the St. Louis convention," said he last night, "and I have not heard a single hurrah for the ticket. It is very evident that the nominations have created no enthusiasm in Indiana, and I do not believe they will. The Democrats expected that Cleveland was going to renounce himself and while a great many of them didn't want him, they knew it was useless to enter an objection. The Republicans certainly were never in better condition. They are well organized and if they are not disappointed in any way there is nothing that can prevent them from carrying Indiana this fall. They have nine chances to the Democrats' one."

Insurance of the Noblesville Fire.
The insurance of $43,000 on the J. L. Evans mill and elevator at Noblesville, destroyed by fire yesterday morning, is in thirty-seven companies and was placed by McGilliard & Dark, of this city. The following companies are represented in the loss: Indiana Insurance Company, $750; Citizens' Insurance Company, of Evansville, $1,000; Minneapolis Mutual Insurance Company, $1,000; Mutual Fire Association, $1,000; Lumbermen's and Manufacturers' Mutual, $1,000; Home Insurance Company, of Nashville, $1,000; Manufacturers' Insurance Company, of Wheeling, $1,000; American Insurance Company, $1,000; Western Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, $1,000; Citizens' Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, $1,000; Germania Insurance Company, of New Orleans, $1,000; Fireman's Insurance Company, of New Orleans, $1,000; other companies, $31,250.

The Stenographers' Contest.
The experts who passed upon the work done by the stenographers in their recent contest have reported to J. R. Perry, chairman of the committee, acting for the Major Anderson Post, under whose auspices the trial of skill was arranged. Miss Annie Goggin's work they considered the best and to her the first prize will be awarded. Honorable mention, the experts say, is due Arthur Hutchins, Miss Grace Speer, Miss Emma White, Miss Cadie E. Brown, Miss Mand White and W. F. Thomas, in the order named.

Escaped from the Hospital.
Mary Lostler, an inmate of the Female Reformatory, who has been at the City Hospital for several days for treatment, escaped from that institution last night, at 9 o'clock, with Charles Smith, another patient. The Lostler woman was accused of the Reformatory two years ago from Rockport for murder, and was serving a ten-year sentence. The two escaped shortly after supper, and are supposed to have gone direct to the country as the police were unsuccessful in getting any trace of them in the city.

IT IS THE OWL'S DAY

A correspondent at Rome says it is absurd to see the length to which the craze has run there. Bracelets, fans, brooches, pins, combs, ink-stands, paper-cutters, umbrella-holders and innumerable other articles all bear the effigy of the bird of wisdom, or at least an owl's head, with the two round, solemn eyes of crystal or yellow glass. And gigantic owl stands as if on guard in halls and ante-chambers. It will be owl right. We can get you owl you want of them.

LEADING IN ALL LINES

The making of ingrain carpet has shown the greatest development of any branch of the carpet trade in the past five years. In that time the unsightly "stripping" that was existent before has disappeared, and the Moresque, Brussels and other good effects have been introduced. This season the lines show several new feats in weaving hitherto undreamed of. We have abundant examples of these, and all else that is new, not only in carpets, but in wall-paper, draperies, curtains and every kind of artistic decoration in this way. We have ample facilities for the display of these things, and invite you to see them.
